

Satellite radio is providing a valuable service, especially to those on the road who drive into and out of local radio station reception areas in unfamiliar areas, by providing weather and traffic information .